

PRESS RELEASE

iBAHN's IT training passes elite assessment

London - (6th August 2009) – iBAHN, the worldwide leader in digital entertainment and Internet solutions for the hospitality and meeting industries, today announces that it has won re-accreditation from the Institute of IT Training (IITT) for the training that it provides to its hotel partners.

The accreditation confirms iBAHN's training standards meet the rigorous guidelines of the IITT - the recognised authority in the UK and Europe on IT training and development.

iBAHN is a full service provider and training is critical to every aspect of its business, from the dedicated team of engineers delivering products and services to hotel guests and corporate companies 24 hours a day, to account management support for staff in partner hotels to ensure they are making the most of iBAHN's technology. Field engineers and technicians also cover every on-site technical need and a multilingual helpdesk provides support for hotel staff and their guests.

iBAHN has demonstrated highest-quality procedures and work ethics in all of these functions, identified through stringent measurement and benchmarking of its processes. In achieving IITT re-accreditation, the company has confirmed its place in an elite network, committed to providing quality IT training and remaining at the forefront of industry innovation.

Graeme Powell, Managing Director EMEA, iBAHN, comments: "This re-accreditation confirms that iBAHN places the highest value on standards, not only in our products but also our people. Our training programmes ensure that our teams provide highest levels of service to our hospitality partners and customers, ensuring iBAHN continues to set the benchmark in the market."

Colin Steed, chief executive of the IITT, said: 'We are delighted that iBAHN has again reached the high standards set by IITT Accreditation and congratulate them for their high standards of training delivery, processes and customer care. We particularly commend them for their plans for developing their first class training professional staff.'
